

Demon TV Host Officer Nomination

Tom Evers is Demon Media's Events Coordinator. He has a pure passion for Student Media and has been a part of NaSTA for 2 years now. He is an organised person, has good connections within De Montfort Student Union and De Montfort University and is friendly and easy to talk to.

Tom comes from a family of massive event coordinators and has the knowledge of what makes the event great. He knows the great passion everyone in Student Television has, and many ideas of how the conference can be used to reward and further this passion. He has a plethora of previous management experience both at work before university and as a manager in student media, as well as experience of working and directing a team, proven by the success of many of Demon Media's events, which he solely directed. As Demon media technician this year, he has gained vast experience in leading and managing a team. Ever since joining Demon Media, Tom has worked hard to really push this media group to strive.

Tom has dedicated a huge part of his last 2 years to Student Media, acting as a technical manager to an event coordinator. since his first year and has persistently strived to improve output of content and experience for members. This is the spirit of NaSTA itself and the dedication he's demonstrated would lend itself to the organisation of NaSTA 2019 and ensure that our host officer next year would give their utmost to the arrangement and execution of our beloved conference, and make DemonTV's NaSTA conference the best yet.
